"We are overjoyed about using Meet The Need. We have been praying for unity of churches in our city to meet the needs of the community. Now there is a simple platform to post and adopt needs across denominations."

"As a consultant helping dot com companies develop internet strategies and as a Christian looking to give back, I started thinking 10 years ago about how the internet could be used to connect people looking to give to others with those who need help. Why don't church members know the needs inside and outside the church? The business world has those answers - can't we bring them over to the local missions world to unite and mobilize the Body of Christ?"
